Dear Saints of Grace,

Alleluia, Christ is Risen!! As we have just celebrated the resurrection of Jesus, what a joy we have in that resurrection in knowing that our sin has been forgiven and by that forgiveness we have victory over death and the grave. Just as Christ has been raised, we have been joined to His resurrection in Baptism, and will be raised on the Last Day to live forever with Him!

With that being said, this month, I'd like to note a couple of things going on at Grace, then continue with talking about things we see in church. So, first, goings on: on May 11th, we'll be having the Rite of Confirmation for two confirmands. Thanks be to God as they make that affirmation of the promises of their baptism before the congregation of God's people here at Grace. The next Sunday, the 18th, we'll then welcome some new members that have joined our congregation. We'll also be having the first of a number of opportunities for pictures for the directory we are assembling for the anniversary. Come and get your family picture that day! It will be our "intergenerational" Sunday as well, where we get all of the generations of the congregation together for some Bible Trivia. A lot is going on, so come join us for these great occasions!

Then, as promised, I'll continue our series on things you see in church. Since we are discussing the affirmation of Baptism that is confirmation, and since our Baptism into Christ promises that we are united to Christ's death and so united to His resurrection, let's look at the Baptismal Font. Obviously, this is where we baptize here at Grace. I could probably write a year's worth of these letters on baptism itself—and maybe will at some point—but for now, let's look at the font itself. Our font has six sides, which from what I found represents the Sixth Day—not of Creation, but of Good Friday. This is an interesting connection because it is in baptism that we are joined to that death of Jesus. This is why, when we added the crucifix to the chancel (the front part of the sanctuary past the communion rail) my suggestion was that it be mounted on the font. This points to our unity to Christ's death. Why? Because as we are united to His death, our sins are buried in His tomb, and we have the promise of being raised in His resurrection. I have talked about the Eighth Day in the not-too-distant past, and its connection to Easter. With that, many fonts are eight sided representing that union with Christ's resurrection as well. Nonetheless, the six is obviously an important symbol with baptism.

So, why do we have the font where we have it? The short answer to is make sure that we see it and are reminded of the Promises Jesus gives to us in baptism and that those waters and union with Christ give to us our identity in Him as His redeemed people. To see this every week is a helpful reminder. The longer answer is that to put it either at the back of the sanctuary (where we would be reminded of our baptism as we enter into the Divine Service) or just in front of the communion rail (where we would be reminded of our baptism as we receive Christ's Holy Supper) would have gotten in the way. So, since we already had the practice of keeping the font in the chancel, it seemed good to have it where we see it all the time. With that, we see the assurance of Christ's victory for us at the first Easter and made our own in the waters of our own baptism. Thanks be to God!

Soli Deo Gloria,

Pastor Zickler

Did you know . . .

Each time Grace has celebrated a dedication or anniversary service, verses from the Bible were chosen to fit the occasion.

For example, on the 10th anniversary in January of 1936, the chosen verse was "To God Alone Be All Glory."

After remodeling the original church, the rededication verse was based on Luke 10:5 - "Peace be to this House."

For the dedication of the newly built church building in 1953, the verse was chosen from Psalm 115:1 "...unto Thy name give Glory..."

On the 50th anniversary the sermon was based on Revelation 3:8, "God's open Door."

And for the 75th anniversary in 2000, John 15:5 was the theme, "I am the vine, you are the branches."

And now on our 100th anniversary we once again take from the book of John, "And from His fullness, have we all received "God's grace upon Grace."

In addition to this little bit of history about your church, check out the memory table for some interesting facts and trivia. Some things may surprise you.
